

Response to FCC solicited comments: RM-10807
From: T. Nick Hulbert KG5N

The petitioners recognize the need for testing incentive based upon the applicants choice to test for CW or not. The incentive plan clearly provides a new dimension to the exam element scoring and pass criteria. This petition also seeks to retain the Morse code exam and suggests a methodology for code and no-code enthusiasts to coexist, for which I am very much in favor. I agree with the Petitioner's position related to the examination pool of questions and reform is warranted. The licensing structure however would be better served by that suggested in RM-10810 and perhaps a selected combination of these petitions be considered.
